NARRATOR:

JEFFREY JUST FINISHED WASHING THE DISHES. HE HAS STACKED THE DISHES ON THE COUNTER BESIDE THE SINK AND IS STILL HOLDING THE TOWEL WHEN ALICE, THE STAFF, WALKS IN TO THE KITCHEN.

ALICE

(exasperated; putting her hands on her hips) "Jeffrey, what have you done?!"

JEFFREY

(looks at Alice and looks back at the dishes)

ALICE

(annoyed-walks toward Jim, hands still on hips) "I said- what did you do here?"

JEFFREY

(guessing) "the dishes?" (Jeffrey begins to pick at his fingers)

ALICE

"You don't have to get smart with me! Look at those dishes and tell me what's wrong!"

JEFFREY

(looks at the dishes, looks at Alice and begins to bite his lip)

ALICE

"You know you are supposed to put the drain board under the dishes- you used a towel!"

JEFFREY

(blinking rapidly) "I'll never get this right!"

NARRATOR:

(Jeffrey throws the towel on the floor,
and as he walks past Alice, he kicks
the cupboard door)
